The number of posts in the Indian Administrative Service Scheme proposed by the Government of India is 38.

27 of them are Senior posts according to the Statement I furnished by our Government (Flagged). To this they have added Leave Reserve, deputation Reserve and Training Reserve (8) and Junior Vacancies (4). The total of these comes to 11, bringing the total to 38. They have reserved 7 of these vacancies to be filled up by promotion from the Provincial Services.

It may be seen from the above that provision has been made to absorb most of the Senior Officers and that the number of vacancies reserved for Junior Officers is very low.

From the Statement No. III it may be seen that there are 97 officers who have more than 10 years of service before they attain the age of superannuation. The Statement No. IV gives an idea as to the number of officers who are 40 years and below and the number of such officers is 70. Quite a number of officers in the latter list would in the normal course of events get into the cadre of Deputy Commissioners and above. It is therefore, desirable to safeguard the interests of these officers and it is therefore necessary that the number of posts in the Junior cadre be increased to at least 30. All the officers in either III or IV list as may be decided by Government ~~might~~ might be reserved and 30 persons picked up for the Junior cadre. They would constitute the pool from which the future vacancies in the Senior posts of the I.A.S. can be filled up. Henceforth according to the scheme of the Government of India all the future vacancies in the Junior cadre will be filled up by direct recruitment from out of the candidates passing the I.A.S. Examination. The number of men that we will have to take every year have been fixed at 1,08 which might mean that we have to take one or two persons every year.

All the persons in the cadre of Assistant Commissioners who are not selected from the I.A.S. cadres will have to be continued in the Provincial Services. The total number of posts of Assistant Commissioners (permanent and on other duty but likely to continue for a long time) would be about 103 according to Statement No.V. After 30 persons are taken away from the Junior I.A.S. Cadre, 73 persons constitute the Provincial Services.

For these officers 7 of the Senior I.A.S. posts have been reserved in the scheme itself. There are 20 senior posts at present carrying a pay of Rs.800/- and above which have not been included in the I.A.S. cadre. Some of them are temporary and are likely to be abolished soon. This figure may get itself reduced to not less than 12. So in the result, 19 senior posts would be open for these 73 persons who will be left in the provincial Service. The figure of 12 posts is also likely to be enhanced by at least 4 or 5 due to increase in the number of Departments that are likely to arise as a consequence of the expansion of the activities of the Government in future. For example the posts of Commissioner for Food Production Scheme, the Director of Food Supplies, the Director of Anti-corruption and Efficiency Audit are bound to be continued for a long time.

Thus about 20 to 24 senior posts will always be available for the officers of the Provincial Service, and thus their interests would not thereby suffer.

The mode of recruitment for the future cadre of Assistant Commissioner would mainly be done from the pool of Amildars, which may be constituted in the following manner:

- 1) By direct recruitment of Revenue Probationers as in vogue now. The pace of recruitment will have to be determined according to the No. of vacancies that may arise.
- 2) By promoting deserving men from the subordinate Services

At present there is an intermediate cadre of Senior Assistant Commissioners carrying a pay of Rs.500-25-600. As the number of vacancies in the cadre of Senior Assistant Commissioner have been fixed up only 10, it would work as a great hardship to many of the service men as they would stagnate at Rs.500/-. With a view to give them some relief it would be desirable to abolish the cadre of Senior Assistant Commissioner and to have a running grade of Rs.300-25-600. As a result of this, many officers who get promotion as Assistant Commissioners from out of those taken as Amildars according at para 2 supra can hope to reach a salary of at least Rs.600 by the time they retire. The 20 to 24 senior posts which are not included in the I.A.S. cadre would be open for the persons recruited according to Sub para 1 of para No. 2.
